7. Contract description

The project addresses the dynamic aspects/functions of the labour market with a view to provide options for problem solving in some of the identified rigidities and obstacles to effective labour markets. It is therefore complementary to the more structurally focused projects on twinning and IT and employment agency and "strategy" development based project that are running in parallel. The basis of the project is the idea of developing measurable target groups and generating options and assessments for resolving labour market problems and tailoring recommendations and solutions to problems at the level and point at which they can be solved. These can be at any- regional, local national or entity levels - with recommendations for the design and development of the requisite institutions and processes to be implemented in a monitored, financially prioritized, and dynamic way.
